Mabel San Román Fuentes

As a passionate and dedicated web developer with a background in English Philology, I combine strong communication skills with expertise in diverse software technologies. My proactive attitude towards learning is reflected in my participation in additional courses and my ability to quickly acquire new skills. Furthermore, I have worked on team projects during my studies, where I demonstrated effective collaboration skills. As an active member of the web development community, I am excited to contribute and grow as a professional in a dynamic environment.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

GALAGO!

Codenotch | 2023 - currently

- Development of a mobile application as the Final Project for Codenotch's Full Stack bootcamp. Following the AGILE Methodology, the application's frontend was meticulously crafted using Angular, incorporating HTML, CSS, TypeScript, and JavaScript.
- On the backend, we employed NodeJs, leveraging the Express module. To support our system, we designed and implemented a relational database using MySQL.
- Upon completion, we successfully deployed the app using Vercel.

TRANSLATION AND LOCALIZATION

Gastronomic Spain | 2021 - 2022

- Articles and products translation for the company's website aimed at the sale of goods in the European Union.
